The DisAbled Women’s Network is a feminist organization for women with all types of disabilities that support each other in their struggles to control their own lives. Does not have the “Bobby” stamp of approval.

www.plannedparenthood.com

Although this site does not have the “Bobby” stamp of approval for accessible it is very assessable to persons with physical disabilities. This site provides excellent sexuality information, but does lack information and educational resources for people with cognitive disabilities.

www.sexualhealth.com

An excellent site which is “Bobby” approved. The Sexual Health Network is dedicated to providing easy access to sexuality information, education, mutual support, counseling, therapy, healthcare, products, and other resources for people with disabilities, illness, or natural changes throughout the lifecycle and those who love them or care for them.

www.mossresourcenet.org

Moss Rehab Resource Net has some information on sexuality and disability.

<http://www.shield.org>

The Shield Institute is dedicated to providing the highest education, training, habilitative and therapeutic services to underserved individuals who through mental or physical condition, or cultural diversity are unable to utilize their individual potential.

<http://www.iemily.com>

A health site for teen girls. Emily provides balanced, respectful information that girls can use to make decisions and to begin to understand that all choices carry consequences, both positive and negative.

<http://www.siecus.org>

The Sexuality Information and Education Council of the U.S., is a national, nonprofit organization which affirms that sexuality is a natural and healthy part of living.

<http://www.sextalk.org>

Planned Parenthood of Tompkins County, New York. This program has been working on developing a sexuality program for persons with developmental disabilities.

<http://www.yai.org>

YAI Training Institute has training material for agency and state organizations rather than an individual.

<http://www.aasect.org>

American Association of Sex Educators, Counselors, and Therapists (AASECT) is a not-for-profit, interdisciplinary professional organization established to prompt understanding of human sexuality and healthy sexual behavior.

<http://www.talkingwithkids.org>

A website for parents to learn updated information on how to talk with their kids about sex, violence, HIV/AIDS, drugs, alcohol, etc. This website is a general website for parents and kids. It does not speak specifically to the issue of disabilities.
